Instructor Training Series (ITS)

Perfect for JATC instructors, Association Instructors, or Organization Subject Matter Experts wanting to learn how increase retention of material, connect with students, and transfer critical industry knowledge to the next generation.

ITS 101: 4 hours In-Person

Foundations of Adult Learning

This workshop focuses on concepts of adult learning theory and engagement. Experience and practice applying the skills as they are learned. Learn that the foundation of any good educational program is based on teaching for retention and application of identified skills.

ITS 102: 4 hours In-Person

Class Design and Development Skills

A workshop focusing on the design process. Participants will practice writing class objective statements and lesson plans. The group will learn how to mix delivery methods to maximize learning and how implementing a design process will make updates and changes to course material easy and instructor friendly.

ITS 103: 4 hours In-Person

Finding Your Presentation Superpowers

The workshop focuses on becoming an effective facilitator. Learn that facilitating and speaking are not the same and that anyone can be a rock star facilitator by leveraging their strengths. Review the basics of effective presentation skills and learn how to avoid the dreaded "death by Power Point."

ITS 104: 4 hours In-Person

There's an Activity for That

This workshop is geared towards effectively designing and implementing activities. Learn the S.L.A.E. approach to creating activities and turning material into engaging methods to retain, learn, and evaluate key learning objectives. Impactful activity implementation can take any class to the next level.

ITS 105: 4 hours In-Person

Teaching to the Generations

By the end of this workshop participants will be able to identify and select teaching strategies and techniques that meet the needs of different generations. In addition, the group will compare and contrast differences between generations as it relates to learner traits and preferences. We will analyze and explain the need to change the way we transfer knowledge in the classroom and discuss the latest trends and buzz words in adult education and their implications to the classes we teach.

ITS 106: 2-2 Hour Sessions Virtually

The Virtual Instructor Tool Kit

- Explore the key elements that make virtual delivery different than face to face. Although the platform is different, the fundamentals of adult learning still apply. The group will leave the session knowing the crucial do's and don'ts of virtual learning.
- Gain the fundamentals of creating new content specifically designed for virtual delivery and learn how to convert inperson content to a virtual platform. Dial in, engage, and deliver.
- Experience different ways to use the virtual platform to engage with your audience. Play games, use the chat box, and learn how to use all of your virtual features to communicate with and between audience members.
- Learn how to effectively delivery case studies, individual worksheets, and group conversations. Use breakouts and the whiteboard feature to enhance learning and encourage engagement.
- Learn presentation tips and best practices. Explore different delivery methods including handouts, workbooks, and Power Point presentations.
- Get answers to your questions and concerns when it comes to being a virtual instructor. Share ideas and identify ways to remove roadblocks to virtual success.
